Proceedings of Both Branches of the General Assembly.

AUSTRALIAN ELECTION BILL.

The House Passes That Measure at a Night Session—Inquiring Into the State's Financial Condition—Local Measures Acted On—Various Other Ohio State News.

COLUMBUS, O., April 10.—The senate passed Cole's bill appropriating $1,000 for the purpose of arranging and publishing a program for the celebration in the public schools of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America.

The senate adopted the joint resolution asking information from the state auditor relative to the state's financial condition.

Howell's bill reducing the salary of the assistant state librarian from $1,200 to $1,000 per year was defeated in the senate after adopting an amendment reducing the salary of the governor from $8,000 to $6,000. The bill received but two votes, those of Howell's and Oren's.

The special order of the afternoon was the Ike Miller street railroad bill, better known as Route 23, for Cincinnati. The question was on the adoption of the majority or minority report. The latter recommends the passage of the bill as it passed the house, while the majority report amends the bill so as to give the contract to the lowest bidder, who must give $50,000 bonds as a guarantee to build the road. The discussion continued until after midnight and part of the time was very spirited.

The opponents of the minority report adopted dilatory tactics. The previous question was finally demanded and the minority report adopted. The bill was then put on its passage. Senator Sutton threatened to resign his seat if the chair decided he could not explain his vote. The bill was passed by a vote of 20 to 8. It was clinched by voting down a motion to reconsider. The result is a victory for Miller and caused some demonstration.

The house after a long wrangle defeated Wagner's bill appropriating $12,000 for the construction of waste ways for the Mercer county reservoir. It was subsequently reconsidered and referred to the committee on ditches and drains.

The house then resumed consideration of the Australian ballot bill, but had done nothing with it up to the time of recess.

At the night session of the house the Mallon Australian election bill was passed with several amendments, which will probably be concurred in by the senate.

Mormons of the Old Faith.

CLEVELAND, April 10.—The announcement was made yesterday at the annual conference of Latter Day Saints that Apostle Joseph Luff, and possibly another, together with other missionaries, will, in all probability, be sent to work upon the Utah Mormons to persuade them to return to their original faith which is held by the reorganized church. Apostle Luff says, also, that polygamy is conducive to immorality and vice, but there are many Mormons in Utah who despise polygamy. Elder Hilliard delivered an eloquent sermon on "Tithing," saying that by this method the poor man has a claim upon the blessing of the Lord just as much as the rich. In the New Testament there are references to the law of tithing, notwithstanding that it may be thought that tithes were abolished when Christ's dispensation began.

Railroader Fatally Injured.

FINDLAY, O., April 10.—Yesterday morning an employe of the Findlay, Fort Wayne and Western gravel train, named George Manning, attempted to jump off at Gilboa, when the train passed that station. He did not get his footing and fell back, striking on the boxing of one of the cars, and was thrown a distance of twenty feet or more, sustaining injuries of a fatal character. Manning's home is in Fort Wayne.

New Incorporations.

COLUMBUS, O., April 10.—Articles of incorporation were filed in the office of the secretary of state yesterday as follows: The Alliance and Northern Railroad company, Alliance, capital stock, $500,000; the Young Women's Christian association, of Ohio, Delaware; the Seneca Mutual Fire association, amendment changing location from Tiffin to Toledo.

Searching for Damaging Evidence.

SPRINGFIELD, O., April 10.—A spectroscopic examination of the $10 bill given by Dick Frames, the alleged murderer of Wat Inman Hambright, to Grocer Muncy, is to be made in Cincinnati. If the small stain on the bill proves to be blood it will doubtless convict Frames, as it will make the circumstantial evidence doubly strong.

Cut Down Apple Trees.

BELLAIRE, O., April 10.—Eliza Warren Foster and David Warran have been bound over to court in the sum of $300 for cutting down 125 young apple trees in York township, Belmont county. They gave bail. Mrs. Foster has served a term in the penitentiary for murdering her husband.

Happened at a Crossing.

CANTON, O., April 10.—Albert Hoobler was struck by a Cleveland and Pittsburg train while driving across the track at Waynesburg. Horse killed, buggy demolished and Hoobler probably fatally injured.

Coffin as an Election Bet.

AKRON, O., April 10.—H. P. Hill won a coffin from H. A. Kasson on the election, but Kasson refuses to deliver the coffin until the winner dies, and the case will probably be taken to court.

Resigned His Office.

COLUMBUS, O., April 10.—Dr. McClain, secretary of the board of penitentiary managers, has resigned.

Copper Mine on Fire.

HANCOCK, Mich., April 10.—Fire broke out in the Pewabic copper mine early yesterday morning and is still burning. Work has been suspended in the threatened mine and also at the Franklin and Quincy mines, which are connected with it. No estimate of the probable loss can be made at present, but nothing serious is expected. The fire causes great excitement among the miners. The Quincy Mining company recently purchased the Pewabic mine for $710,000.

NOT AS BLACK

The Condition of the Negroes in Oklahoma.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Is Oklahoma really overrun with negroes, and has there been an influx of pauper negroes from the south? writes a Topeka, Kan., correspondent of The Times, and then continues:

So many conflicting answers have been given in response to these two questions that it was impossible to arrive at the truth. The census-taker there last summer was of no use in aiding one to arrive at conclusions, for, while Guthrie enumerated, so it is said, the horses, dogs and chickens, as well as the "regular" population, Oklahoma and Kingfisher failed to count the men, women and children, while Edmund, Elreno and Lincoln are still in doubt as to what and who were counted, and Langston was not in existence.

The Territory Visited.

In order to determine the truth, The Times representative determined to visit the territory and see what was to be seen, and to learn from interested persons as much of the truth as they could be prevailed upon to surrender. Those who have never attempted to draw the truth from an Oklahomaite can hardly realize the difficulties that are presented. The territory was born in falsehood, was baptized in falsehood, and falsehood has been the principal article of diet ever since that fateful 22d day of April, 1889, when the "Sooners" became the leading citizens of a country opened up to settlement too late in the year for the planting of crops, and to which the poverty-stricken were invited by speculators and impecunious lawyers.

Can Only Be Estimated.

Guthrie, being the headquarters of the Afro-American Colonization company, has naturally been the objective point of the negroes who have been induced to migrate to Oklahoma. It is impossible to ascertain how many of the black race have arrived in that city, the estimates varying so largely. Those who are opposed to negro settlement declare positively that there are not fifty in the city. Those who favor the movement insist that there are more than 2,000 in and about the capital. The latter is probably more nearly the correct figure, as an inspection of the city revealed many black faces, and an examination of many of the little houses in the suburbs showed a number of colored families comfortably situated.

Not All Paupers.

That these negroes are not all paupers is shown by their bank deposits, where they have sums ranging from $200 to $1,000. In one bank alone sums aggregating over $15,000 have been deposited by the negro settlers. Many have gone to that territory with nothing except the rags they wore, but they have never become public charges. They have been cared for by persons of their own race until they were in such condition that they could help themselves and help others.

At this time there are eight families crowded into an old over one year is "old" in that country store room, which aggregates forty-five people. There they sit day after day, waiting until they can be scattered and settled temporarily upon some of their race's claims. They have their rags and their bundles of household goods, and probably $50 would prove a bonanza to the entire outfit. They are fed by their more fortunate brothers, and some way they will be kept alive until summer, when they will show that they are self-sustaining, for they will work and exist upon most nothing.

Negroes Don't Complain.

Humiliating as the confession must be and is, the appeals for aid coming from Oklahoma do not come from the negroes but from the whites. They exemplify the workings of the co-operative plan, as on claims may be found two, four and sometime eight families, all working together and often living together, awaiting the time when more land will be opened for settlement, when the surplus expect to find claims for themselves.

Brothers Suicide.

LANCASTER, Pa., April 10.—Harry Kauffman died last night quite suddenly. His symptoms previous to his death were similar to those of a person who had taken arsenic. He informed his father that his brother Milton and himself had taken poison with a view of dying together. Milton died about ten days ago after exhibiting the same symptoms as those of Harry. No cause is assigned for the act of the boys.

CENSUS BULLETIN.

The Increase and Decrease of Population.

STARTLING DISCLOSURES.

A Number of Counties Show an Actual Decrease in Population—Masonic Ceremonies Over the Remains of the Late General Pike—Arranging the President's Trip—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Superintendent Porter, of the census bureau, has issued a very interesting and valuable bulletin which shows by a statistical atlas the increase and decrease of population of the United States from 1880 to 1890. This atlas, by a series of maps, exhibits to the eye the varying intensity of settlement over the area of the country, the distribution of the foreign population among the several states and territories and the distribution of population in accordance with maximum and minimum temperature, rainfall and altitude.

The map shows that in a very large number of counties the population has actually decreased. The number of counties decreased in population during the past ten years is 455. In about fifty cases the reduction is due to reduction of territory. In 148 counties the number of inhabitants diminished during the decade preceding 1880. The losses during the past decade occurred mainly in the central parts of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, northern New Jersey and eastern Virginia, and is scattered quite generally through Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Tennessee and Kentucky. Southern Michigan, and Wisconsin have also suffered, while in eastern Iowa a large proportion of the counties have lost population. Much other valuable information is contained in a study of the map which is the first ever issued by any census.

A Solemn Service.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Last night at midnight the Masonic ceremonies over the remains of Gen. Albert Pike were held in the First Congregational church with all the solemnity that must mark such an occasion. At about 10:30 members of Albert Pike consistory conveyed the body from the Scottish Rite cathedral, where it was lying in state, to the church. Masons occupied the entire floor of the auditorium, and the public could only get into the galleries. Seats had been reserved for members of family of the deceased and their immediate friends. The church was not draped. A temporary platform had been erected, such as was used when an orchestra performed in the church, and on this were the principal participants in the service of the Knights Kadosh.

Arranging for the President's Tour.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Mr. George W. Boyd, assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania railroad, who will have charge of the special train conveying the presidential party on its tour south and west, was at the White House yesterday arranging the details of the trip. The railroad schedule and the exact space of time to be spent in each of the cities to be visited will be publicly announced as soon as definitely determined. It is practically settled that the party will start from Washington Tuesday morning, and that Mrs. Harrison and several other ladies will accompany it.

Prominent Physician Dead.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Dr. J. O. Stanton, a prominent physician of this city, died at his home here at 5:30 yesterday evening of pneumonia. Dr. Stanton, although suffering from a cold for several days past, was out attending to his patients Wednesday afternoon. He went home and to bed about 7 o'clock that evening, and although attended by half a dozen physicians, succumbed to the dreaded disease within twenty-four hours.

Mexico's Representative to the Fair.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The Mexican government has appointed Don Leandro Ferndez, the delegate from that republic to the inter-continental railway conference, as a special commissioner to visit Chicago and select a site in the world's fair grounds in Jackson park for the location of the Mexican buildings, which will be very extensive and ornate.

General Spinola's Condition.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Gen. Spinola's condition has changed but little since yesterday. He is very low, but it is thought he will live possibly several days longer.

Pension Agent Fined.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Col. Charles B. Stonghton, a pension agent, was yesterday fined $500 by Judge Benedict in the United States circuit court for violating the pension laws, in that he charged a soldier's widow $1,000 for obtaining a pension for her of $2,200. The law provides that only a fee of $25 shall be charged.

Soon Time to Stop This.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Yesterday's registration of immigrants at the barge office landing station has been the largest since last summer. There were 4,332 steerage passengers from six steamships registered. The steamships Cachmire and Birmania arrived Wednesday with 2,197 Italians, too late to be landed.

Some Prospect of a Settlement.

PITTSBURG, April 10.—It is stated that the leaders of the coke strike have decided to let the men negotiate with the employers direct and not through labor organizations.

Driven to Suicide by La Grippe.

OMAHA, April 10.—David C. Kimball, city passenger agent of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad since 1875, committed suicide by shooting while suffering from la grippe.

THE DEAD SHOWMAN.

Arrangements All Complete for the Funeral of P. T. Barnum.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 10.—The funeral of P. T. Barnum, in accordance with his expressed wishes, will be unostentatious. At 1 o'clock to-day services will be held in the house and be strictly private. Rev. L. B. Fisher, of the Universalist church of this city, and Rev. Dr. Collyer, of New York, will officiate at the final services in the South Congregational church at 2 o'clock.

It was Mr. Barnum's request that Dr. Collyer should speak upon the text "Not my will but Thine be done," and that two hymns which he selected just prior to his death should be sung. The pallbearers will be selected from Bridgeport's most prominent citizens, and a large number of New York people will attend the services at the church. The remains will be placed in a vault in Mountain Grove cemetery.

Governor Fowle's Funeral.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 10.—The funeral of Governor Fowle, which took place here at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, brought together thousands of people from many sections of the state. Business was suspended, the public schools and municipal offices were closed, and everywhere mourning emblems were visible that betokened deep grief and sorrow for the death of a beloved public official. Delegations of leading citizens from almost every city and town in the state, and militia organizations from many places, were in attendance: and with the thousands of citizens made up an immense procession that followed the remains of the late governor to his grave.

ESCAPED FROM JAIL.

Seven Prisoners Prefer Liberty to a Prison Cell.

RUSSELLVILLE, Ky., April 10.—A daring and successfully carried out escape from the county jail was made here Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. There were twelve prisoners in all confined in the jail. They were allowed the liberty of the corridors during the day, and were locked in cells at night. Wednesday evening, when the jailer went in to put them in cells, he found seven of the prisoners absent. They cut the bars of one of the windows during the day, and as soon as it was dark they leaped to the ground, a distance of twelve feet.

The men who escaped are Jeff Porter, white, who was under indictment for the assassination of George W. Cain, a wealthy farmer: Henry Gill, Jeff Townsend and Solomon Walton, colored, who killed a negro at Adairville over a game of craps a few weeks ago: Bill Husky, a negro house-breaker: Buck Baker, white, charged with shooting into a train, and Ed. Morton, negro, for stealing. The sheriff and a large posse are scouring the country for them.

Proposed Coal Combine.

NEW YORK, April 10.—A proposition is under consideration for the consolidation of the Hocking Coal and Iron company and the Ohio and Western Coal company. It is proposed to capitalize the consolidated company for $9,400,000. The former company has earned and paid dividends, while the latter company, on the contrary, has been in the hands of a receiver for years. There is a good deal of dissatisfaction on the part of some of the stockholders of the Hocking company, who will doubtless organize a strong opposition to the consolidation plan.

Hard Times in Australia.

NEW YORK, April 10.—A letter from Melbourne, Australia, says that the condition of the labor market in Australian colonies is deplorable. They are inundated with shop assistants, clerks and unskilled labor, as well as with skilled mechanics, thousands of whom are utterly unable to find employment. The influx commenced in the fall and matters are weekly becoming worse. Thousands of strong, able-bodied men are forced to depend upon public charity. There is very little probability of any improvement for fully twelve months to come.

Accident in a Railroad Yard.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 10.—A freight train on the Housatonic railroad while being backed down into the yard took the wrong track and crashed into some empty passenger coaches. The empty coaches were driven through the board fence into Gold street and striking the brick tank house of the Consolidated road, seriously damaged it. A woman, whose name is unknown, crossing the street at the time, was knocked down and instantly killed.

Mangled Body Found.

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—The cut, mangled and mutilated body of an almost naked woman was found in the Mississippi river at the foot of Filmore street, Carondalet, yesterday. The remains presented a horrible sight. Both legs had been cut off below the knees. Besides this the body had been almost disemboweled, having been cut entirely in two above the waist. Upon the trunk and legs parts of the underclothing still remained.

PROTECTION FOR NEW YORK.

The Board of Trade Wants the Matter Pressed Upon Congress.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The New York board of trade and transportation have adopted resolutions that "In view of the almost defenseless condition of New York harbor, and the great losses that would arise from an enemy's attack on this great entry port of the United States, the financial center of the country and the heart of the nation, we respectfully petition the senate and assembly to pass a concurrent resolution requesting the president of the United States to call to the special attention of congress in his next message the exposed condition of the sea approaches to New York city and Brooklyn, and ask immediate action by congress, looking to the better protection of the same."

RUSSIA'S INTENTION

Italy Must Not Interfere With Her Expedition,

OR WAR WILL BE DECLARED.

Emperor Menelek Recognized as the Independent Sovereign of Abyssinia—European Jealousy Aroused—German Steamship Seized by the Chilian Government—Other News From Abroad.

LONDON, April 10.—A St. Petersburg dispatch says that Russia will consider as an act of war any interference by Italy with the Russian expedition starting in three or four days for Abyssinia. Russia regards the Emperor Menelek as the independent sovereign of an independent nation, and will tolerate no obstructions in dealing directly with him. The expedition is under the command of Lieut. Mashkoff, a very determined man, of approved courage and powerful physique. He is 33 years of age, and has served two years in the army of the Caucacus. The second in command is a monk named Tikhon.

The expedition expects to be about two months on the journey to the headquarters of Menelek at Antogo. A substantial habitation will be erected there for use during the rainy season, and excursions will be made in various directions to gather scientific facts, and make inquiries as to the condition and history of the people. The expedition will remain three years in the country, and make an attempt to reach the great lakes from a direction not yet attempted by Europeans. It is this program which excites Europe's jealousy, and it is feared, may lead to underhanded attempts to defeat its object. Lieut. Mashkoff is confident, however, that with the friendship of Menelek, which he has every reason to expect, he will be able to resist any hostile attack.

German Steamship Seized.

LIVERPOOL, April 10.—It is reported that the German steamship Romulus was seized by the Chilian government at Coronel a few days ago. Full particulars have not yet been received, but it is known that the steamer arrived at the port of Pisagua on Jan. 16 for a cargo of nitrate. Pisagua is one of the ports held by the insurgent force, and the government has issued an order prohibiting the entry of vessels into such ports or the shipping of nitrate therefrom. It is presumed that the steamer, after obtaining her cargo, went to Coronel for coal, and was there seized by the government for having violated its orders, and also for the refusal to pay the government duty on the nitrate. Both the government and insurgents exact such a duty, and a vessel caught by either after the payment of the duty to one party is forced to pay a second duty. Germany will doubtless interfere in the matter.

Another Desperate Battle.

CALCUTTA, April 10.—A dispatch from Simla says that the Manipuris have made another desperate attack upon the weak detachment of Ghoorkas commanded by Lieut. Grant, which recently captured Fort Thabet after a stubborn fight with over ten times their number. The Manipuri advance was vigorously conducted, the natives facing a destructive fire with remarkable courage, forcing the assault with the utmost gallantry. The engagement lasted three hours, and concluded with the repulse of the Manipuris. The usurping rajah and two prominent chiefs of the insurrectionists were killed during the battle. The loss in killed and wounded of the tribesmen was very heavy. Capt. Presgrave has arrived at Fort Thabat with reinforcements and the Manipuris have offered to surrender. More reinforcements are expected.

Labor Movement in Germany.

BERLIN, April 10.—The workingmen's unions throughout Germany are moving to take united action against the introduction of cheap labor from Austrian and Russian Poland. There has been no objection to this importation as long as it was confined to the agricultural districts, where there is and has been a dearth of native labor, but now the Poles are beginning to invade the towns and compete with German workingmen in the mechanical branches of employment. They work for lower wages than the Germans, and live more cheaply. Fifteen Poles were found in two rooms, in Berlin, living in common on the cheapest food, and sleeping on straw on the floor. They have found work readily at half of the ordinary wages.

Why They Fought.

CALCUTTA, April 10.—The text of the letter received yesterday from Simla has been published there. In it the Manipuri chief says: The British attacked my palace, massacred my soldiers and their women and children; they threw living women and children into the flames of their burning houses, and desecrated the temples. Therefore I killed the chief commissioner's party, which was composed of Commissioner Quinlon, Col. Skene, Lieut. Simpson, and the civilians Cossins, Crimwood and Melville. Lieut. Grant and Capt. Presgrave, who, it was feard had been killed, are now reported as being alive and safe.

Member of Parliament Dead.

LONDON, April 10.—The Right Honorable George Augustus Cavendish Bentinck, member of parliament, for Whitehaven, is dead. He was the son of Maj. Gen. Bentinck and was born in London in 1821. He was first elected to parliament from Taunton in 1860. In 1865 he first represented Whitehaven. He was appointed parliamentary secretary of the board of trade in 1874, and in 1875 was admitted to the privy council. He was elected by a small majority as a Conservative from Whitehaven in 1886.

Bakers' Strike Postponed.

VIENNA, April 10.—The bakers of this city have postponed the date for the inauguration of their strike, but there is little doubt that they will eventually go out, as compliance with their demands by the employers is impossible. The city officials have made arrangements with a number of foreign bakers to supply the city with bread may the necessity arise. It was rumored at a late hour last night that 3,000 bakers had decided to strike immediately.

A Monster Trial in Italy.

ROME, April 10.—A monster trial is in progress at Barri, Italy. One hundred and seventy-nine members of the Mala Vita society are accused of various crimes, their trial being in progress at once. The accused occupy two galleries secured by strong iron bars. They are mostly masons, coopers, and of other mechanical occupations. They are young and well dressed but the number includes many well known criminals. Order is preserved by a strong force of police and military. The witnesses for the prosecution number 207 and for the defense 425. The precincts of the court are thronged with soldiers prepared to deal summarily with any outbreak. The trial began last Monday. The majority plead absolute ignorance of the Mala Vita society. A few admit that they wounded certain persons by order of the society, under fear of death. Two of the prisoners revealed the names of several officers of the society, including the president. One described the society as divided into Camorristi, Pudiotti and Giovanotti. There has been great excitement and almost a riot in court.

Thwarting Immigrant Agents.

BERLIN, April 10.—The German government has accepted a proposition by Russia to send a joint note asking the governments of Brazil and the Argentine Republic to prohibit the landing of German and Russian emigrants who are unprovided with official permits, and to facilitate the return of emigrants desiring to return to their native country. The objects sought to be accomplished is the thwarting of immigrant agents.

British Emigration.

LONDON, April 10.—According to statistics just made public 152,413 persons emigrated from the British isles to the United States in 1890, while only 22,590 persons emigrated from the British isles to British America in the same year.

Tried for Murder.

BERNE, April 10.—Castroni, who slew Rossi during the revolution at Ticonio is to be tried for murder, and twenty-one others who took part in the insurrection, are on trial as insurgents, which is the decision of the federal court.

A Mother's Crime.

HERMAN, Neb., April 10.—While insane this morning Mrs. Andrew Doll killed her two children and then committed suicide by swallowing a quantity of concentrated lye.

Scalded to Death.

CHICAGO'S ELECTION RETURNS.

The Official Canvass of the Votes Cast Will Begin To-Day.

CHICAGO, April 10.—The office of the election commissioners was filled with a crowd of interested spectators yesterday afternoon to witness the official canvass of the vote cast in the recent municipal election. Judge Pendergast, W. C. Asay, and H. O'Brien represented the Democrats and W. T. Underwood, E. R. Bliss and Coroner Herts the Republicans.

Shortly after 2 o'clock the canvassing board, consisting of County Judge Scales, Commissioners Luke Coyne, W. J. English and J. Healy, took seats, the city attorney, the fifth member being absent through sickness. After a lengthy argument upon the legality of proceeding in the absence of the city attorney, it was finally decided to postpone the canvass until to-day at 2 p. m., when it is hoped the city attorney will be present.

According to Election Commissioner English and Election Clerks Twohig and Beardly, the situation in regard to the mayoralty election is unchanged from what it was yesterday. Every precinct has been heard from and the official returns are completed and are safe under lock and key in the vault in the election commissioners' office. The unofficial returns have also been received and footed, and the party managers on both sides claim a small plurality. Only the official canvass of the commissioners can decide who is elected.

Chief of Police Marsh, who has the police returns in his possession, said that nothing short of the official canvass could determine whether Mr. Washburne or Mr. Cregier had been elected. The unofficial returns would seem to indicate, as nearly as he could figure them, that Mr. Cregier had the best of the situation by 200 votes. The police returns, he said, were wholly unreliable. Many of them had come in over the telephone, and anyone could see how easily mistakes might occur.

The Republicans still continue to talk of fraud at the polls, and declare they will fight to the bitter end. Lawyer W. T. Underwood, who was quite prominent in the Smith-Harrison contest of 1886, has been engaged by the Republicans and given charge of all cases which point to an infraction of the election law.

Not a Candidate.

OMAHA, April 10.—Secretary Proctor and party arrived here yesterday evening. The secretary, when asked about the rumors that he was a candidate for the senatorship made vacant by the resignation of Edmunds, replied: "I am not a candidate; all this gossip about me in that connection is without my knowledge." The secretary further said he should proceed at once to Washington.

Indianapolis Postmaster Dead.

Weighs 975 Pounds; Wants to Weigh 1,000.

Before his recent visit to wonderland, in this city, John Harmon Craig had traveled more than 400,000 miles. It is a long journey, but John has much size.

The floor over which John may choose to walk must be prepared to withstand a strain of 975 pounds. Nevertheless, he eats and sleeps regularly, and consequently is healthy. His ambition is to weigh 1,000 pounds, which would shatter the records of both historical and mythological heavy weights. He thinks he will do it soon, unless his anxiety to do so retards his growth.

"It has been the law with people of abnormal weight and size," said Mr. Craig during his recent exhibition here, "to be short lived and subject to violent attacks of illness. I am the only one who has enjoyed throughout life perfect health."

Craig has accumulated several fortunes, and lost two or three in an attempt to run a circus. He yet possesses a bank account well proportioned to his own size. Besides being a fat man he is a Knight of Pythias, Odd Fellow and United Workman. Those that know him best say that he is also a regular bureau of charity.

He was born in Iowa City, Ia., and is thirty-five years old. At birth he weighed eleven pounds. At eleven months he weighed seventy-seven pounds, and at the age of two years he weighed 206 pounds. He was the biggest baby in the world for his age, and captured the $1,000 cash prize offered by Barnum in 1868. For the next two years he traveled in Europe. When he returned he weighed 300 pounds, and a year later he weighed 405 pounds. When twenty-five years old he weighed 625 pounds.

There is a Mrs. Craig and a Mr. Craig, Jr. Mrs. Craig is a blonde, twenty-four years of age, and weighs 117 pounds. They met for the first time in St. Joseph in 1884, when Craig was on exhibition there. It was a case of love at first sight for both, and in less than a week after the meeting matrimonial negotiations had ended successfully. They were married in Fort Scott, Kan., two weeks later.

Something New in Decoration.

A California invention has just been patented which bids fair to revolutionize the methods now in vogue for decorating glass and porcelain. The object of the invention is to so decorate such surfaces as to produce and permanently fix upon them impressions of figures, portraits or scenery.

A sheet of glass or porcelain is covered with an emulsion, and after being subjected to a dry heat is placed over a photograph, engraving, etching or any kind of drawing. The glass or porcelain, after being sensitized, is exposed for about three minutes in a strong sunlight. After the exposure is made the picture is developed by the use of ceramic powders of any color desired.

The powder is taken dry and sifted evenly in the desired locations and brushed over with a soft brush. Gradually the images develop on the plates, green foliage, brown trunks and branches appear, vivid and true to nature. When the image is thus developed a thin coating of flux is applied, the plate is put into a firing furnace, and the picture becomes permanent.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Durango's Tin Mine.

With reference to the reported discovery of a very rich tin mine about forty-five miles from the city of Durango, John Pershmaker, the owner, says the discovery of the vein was almost an accident. He had gone to what is known as the Diabalt mine for the purpose of examining the yield of metal bearing ores, not knowing that tin had ever been found there. He found a shaft about 300 feet deep, which had passed through two light veins of gold, iron and silver bearing ores.

On making a close examination of the sides of the shaft he noticed a large and very rich lead of oxide and tin. He ran a horizontal tunnel for a short distance, striking a vein of ore over four feet wide and composed of a solid mass of oxide of tin, assaying from 50 to 60 per cent. of the pure metal. There is no sulphur in it whatever, so that the work of reducing the ore simply amounts to the work of smelting and casting into ingots.—New York Telegram.

Something New in Vests.

The skeleton vest has a full vest front and an open back. The collar and a piece of the shoulder top run all the way around, thus affording sufficient body for a proper shoulder set. The vest is then fastened at and the waist by a belt. These skeleton vests are made in two sizes. One size will fit a 32, 34, 36 or 38 bust, and the other will fit a 40 to 46. The garment sits beautifully and fits the figure perfectly. The main features are that it does away with a great deal of weight and useless material and makes a well cool garment.—Mercer

An Important Letter.

Technicalities of the law are being used to an advantage in the Walker county court. A party was charged with the theft of cigars. The county attorney, in drawing up the complaint charged the accused with the theft of "min" cigars. The defendant's lawyer succeeded in having the case thrown out of court because the letter "u" was omitted from the word "mine," and showed that the accused did not appropriate "min cigars" belonging to some one else to his own use.—Madisonville (Tex.) Messenger.

FOOTLIGHT FLASHES.

Pauline Hall plays a long summer engagement in Philadelphia, opening in June.

Joseph Hoffman, the pretty little boy pianist, has grown tall, lank and freckled.

Miss Maud Miller, daughter of the poet Joaquin, will be a member of the "My New Sweetheart" company next season.

It is said that Mrs. Langtry has failed both as Cleopatra and Lady Barter. She was even hissed in the latter part by the Londoners.

Nellie McHenry is to have a new comedy by H. Grattan Donnelly. It will be farcical in character, and the lady is certain it will be a great "go."

Carroll Johnson, the ex-minstrel comedian, will star in an Irish play next season. It is from the pen of Edward E. Kidder, and is entitled the "The Gossoon."

The court of appeals of Kentucky, sitting at Frankfort, has granted a divorce to Marie Perzel, better known as Marie Prescott, the emotional actress.

Annie Pixley has decided to cancel her engagements for next season. She cannot find a suitable play, and, besides, she and her managers think that she is entitled to a rest.

Mlle. La Duse is known in Italy as the Italian Sarah Bernhardt. She has just appeared in Rome in "Camille" with immense success, and will next go to Russia. She may be expected in this country at any time afterward.

It is one of Joseph Jefferson's peculiarities to abhor theatrical passes. Whenever he reaches a large city Jefferson goes to the box office of the theater where he is to appear and spends from ten dollars to fifty dollars on tickets to distribute among his friends.

Clara Morris is reported to be a very wealthy woman. She has some fine investments in western real estate, and has the knack of putting money in good places. She supports her aged mother in nice style in a cozy home on the banks of the Hudson, where she spends a part of her summer vacations.

THE JEWEL CASKET.

Brooch-like chatelaines of knotted gold wire are used as watches.

Spinning wheels in porcelain have been brought out as mantel ornaments.

Japanese crepe instead of satin is used as lining for cases for silver and jewelry.

An unostentatious but costly bracelet is the one made of small flexible chain bands, studded with diamonds.

Shoe buckles, copying old time French models, are in moderate demand for shoes to be worn with evening costumes.

An artistic necklace consists of a single row of pearls from which depend at intervals pink topazes and aquamarines.

To meet the present demand for Louis XV fashions are boudoir clocks in Vernis Martin, with crushed morocco leathers.

The new gold and silver mounted leather goods represent crocodile, Brazilian lizard, pig, elephant and calfskins and morocco.

Numbered with chatelaine watches seen are those in enameled gold cases that copy in form and color violins and mandolins.

Large gold headed pins are necessary adjuncts to a lady's toilet, and are worn well pushed in, leaving only the heads visible.

Cleopatra's asp reproduced in brilliants is a fashionable ornament for the hair; Joan of Arc sword in diamonds is another.

That coral is making some progress is intimated by rings seen, of beaten gold, in which were set five medium sized globes of coral.

The chrysolite has become valuable in jewelry by reason of its attractive effects under light. A watch of this stone is set with clover leaves in diamonds.

Ladies in mourning can make choice of onyx, hematite and black enameled jewels. The onyx may be dull or polished, and settings of pearls or diamonds are allowable.

The remarkable fad for jeweled trimmings on bonnets and gowns has called out a bewildering variety of "Stick pins," which are worn wherever the taste or convenience of the wearer suggests.

The very latest fad in jeweled trimmings are the spangle, like studs of faceted glass called cabochans by the French, and known here as "nail heads." These assume fanciful devices such as pointed stars, wafers, squares and elongated diamonds.—Jewelers' Circular.

GIANTS OF THE PAST.

The Emperor Maximin was eight feet in height.

A giant exhibited at Rouen in 1735 was eight feet high.

Gallara, the giant exhibited in Rome during the reign of Claudius Cæsar, was over ten feet high.

Furman, the Scotch giant of the time of Eugene II, measured but two lines less than eleven feet six inches.

The body of Orestes, according to the Greek historians, measured eleven feet when being prepared for burial.

Secondilla and Pusio, the giant keepers of the gardens of Sallust, were exactly of the same height, each measuring nine feet six inches.

Paterus, in his published writings, tells of a giant whom he examined at Lucerne whose body measured nineteen feet four inches and three lines.

Chevalier Scovey, in his account of the voyage to the peaks of Teneriffe, says that in opening one of the sepulchral caverns they found a human skull which measured four feet in circumference and which was provided with eighty teeth.

In Rouen, in 1509, workmen found a stone tomb containing a skeleton whose skull held a bushel of wheat, the shin bone reaching to the waist of the tallest man on the ground. Over the tomb the following words, "In this tomb lies the noble and puissant lord the Chevalier Roger de Valle not and his bones."—Chicago Times

The Yankees say "from Maine to Texas."

The Persians say "from Medina to Mecca."

The southerners say "from Florida to Alaska."

The English say "from Land's End to John o' Groat's."

In Tobolsk they say "from New York to Pittsburg."

SCIENCE AND PROGRESS.

THINGS SURE TO PLEASE ENTERPRISING MEN AND WOMEN.

Modern Stage Effects That Are Due to Discoveries of Science, Especially to the Various Manifestations of Electricity. A Pretty Stage Trick Explained.

A very pretty stage trick was recently introduced in a play at a Paris theater, where certain robes were exhibited, each when lifted from the chest in which it was contained, shone with a golden or silver light, and were apparently self luminous. This beautiful effect, explains Popular Science News, was obtained by placing a powerful electric light underneath the stage and reflecting its rays through the stage and into the chest through openings provided for the purpose. The chest was filled with a light, thin, yellow gauze, which, when lifted out, reflected the light in all directions in a manner analogous to the illuminated fountains and jets of water which were such a feature of the last Paris exposition.

To obtain a silvery or "moonlight" effect, blue gauze was substituted, and a piece of blue glass placed before the electric light. When the scene was finished, the robes were replaced, the "traps" in the stage and the chest closed, and the ensemble could then be lifted and removed from the stage, making the illusion complete.

Forked Lightning.

As to the term "forked lightning," the representations of it given by artists, which resemble the so called thunderbolts placed in the hand of Jupiter, are quite absurd. Popular Science News tells that the flash when photographed exhibits itself as a line which is continually changing its course, and is described as "intensely crooked" by a very careful observer. It never proceeds for a time in a straight line, and then, turning at a sharp angle, going on farther in an equally straight line, as is represented in pictures. The forking of it is very marked, and this occurs by side flashes passing off from the main track, and eventually losing themselves like the ramifications of tree roots. Occasionally the lightning appears to start from a point from which several flashes diverge in different directions.

To Whiten Iron.

To render iron as white and beautiful as silver The Jewelers' Circular directs to take ammoniacal salt in powder and mix it with an equal quantity of quicksilver, dissolve in cold water and mix well. When done immerse the redheated metal in this bath and it will become as white as silver. Be careful not to burn the article by overheating.

Home Made Scales.

Among the things not generally known is the fact that a capital pair of scales may be manufactured out of a simple piece of string, thick or thin, as may come first to hand. This is how it is done:

Drive two nails a yard apart into the edge of a shelf, say in the pantry or kitchen. To these attach the ends of a piece of string a yard and a half long, first tying in the middle a good sized knot, long enough to be easily seen. A sheet of millboard cut in two will furnish the scales, each of which you must suspend by four substantial bits of string from the principal cord on either side of the knot, and each at nine inches distance from it. The central portion of the string which bears the knot will then take a horizontal position, and will be eighteen inches in length. Fasten a square of cardboard or of stout paper behind this horizontal portion, and make a mark in it in the shape of an arrow, indicating the exact position of the knot when your scales are not in use. If you now place an article, say a chicken, upon one of the scales, the balance is disturbed, and the central portion of the cord assuming a more or less oblique direction, the knot will be shifted from its position in front of the indicating arrow.

To bring it back to such position you must gradually load the opposite scale with weights of known denominations, and when the equilibrium is restored shall and the knot comes once more exactly in front of the arrow, the total of the weights placed in the second scale will indicate that of your chicken. Scales of this kind may be made of any kind of cord, from jack thread to sash line, according to the nature of the articles whose weight are to be ascertained. These scales are cheap and quite exact enough for most ordinary household requirements.

Scientific Brevities.

Japanese lacquer is being used at the Brooklyn navy yard with a view to the protection of the steel hulls of certain navy tests, the corrosive action of salt water and the fouling of the bottoms by marine growths.

Mr. Bert has proved by experiments that there is no "dead" air in the exhausted bell jar, and that the mercury and the sides of the vessel are absolutely dry.

A professor of chemistry at the Cooper Union in New York has discovered that Elisha Mitchell, after whom Mount Mitchell was named, was not the highest mountain in the United States, as was supposed, but that Clingman's peak, in the Black mountains, was the highest. Mitchell's peak was 6,711 feet high, while Clingman's peak was 6,707 feet high. Mitchell's peak was named after Professor Mitchell, who lost his life while measuring the mountains.

Bonds of the United States may be issued at any time by any authorized officer of the treasury.

ALL AROUND THE HOUSE.

Fabrics and Designs That Are Popular in Ornamental Needlework.

White flannel is used occasionally for tea cloths; these are picked at the edge and well covered with fine embroidery. Delicate shades of silk serve best for flannel work.

A tea cozy is fashioned in a novel fashion. It is of cloth, and sprays of flowers tied with ribbons form the design; but the novelty consists in the flowers, which are prepared buttons being fixed to the ground. They are sewn on to form as much as possible like the natural flowers. No padding is used to raise them. They are hollow, but, being of cloth, they will not easily get crushed.

A new way of making up a tea cozy is to slash the sides and fill in with puffs of pongee silk; the cozy is of plush, embroidered with arrasene.

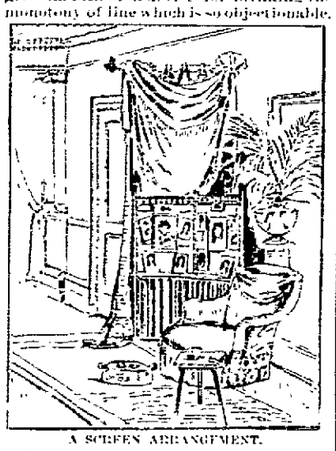
Cross-stitch embroidery is as fashionable as ever, and it is certainly well adapted for the decoration of household linen. Nothing looks better for ornamenting glass towels than a strip of cross stitch. Most of the designs are carried out in blue and red, but they also show well in shades of gold. The best of the towels have insertions of lace and handsome knotted fringes. Some with Russian designs—quaint figures—are embroidered twelves inches or more deep at both ends. These are the over towels.

Enameled camp stools fitted with work bags (the lining of the bags matches the shade of the enameled stool, but the outside is of some bold patterned cretonne) are much admired. They are made on a large scale, and will not tip over readily.

White satin is being used for cushions, though not so handsome as the damasks and brocades. It is very charming if the decoration is rich. Arrasene or fine chenille flowers with silk embroidered foliage make the most perfect decoration imaginable on the sheeny white ground. Water green arrasene with light bronze foliage, and soft brown arrasene with delicate yellow green leaves, are lovely colorings. The double silk frill that surrounds the cushion matches the flowers.

An Artistic Idea for a Long Room.

A long room is the despair of any one with an eye to artistic furnishing. The problem of two long lines of wall unbroken, in most cases, except by a door in one and, perhaps, a fireplace in the other) is an ugly one to solve. Our cut, however, gives an idea of a device for breaking the monotony of line which is so objectionable.



A SCREEN ARRANGEMENT.

This consists of a sort of screen attached to the wall about midway of the room. The rod which supports a handsome portiere drapery should match the curtain poles if the latter are used; if they are not, it may be of brass or any handsome wood. The rod can, if desired, be hinged in such a way that it can at any time be swung back against the wall. The angle between curtain and wall furnishes a cozy corner in which to place a picture screen, handsome potted plants and easy chair, or to make a similar little artistic arrangement.

Parsnip Soup.

Take about one fourth of a pound of salt pork; chop it moderately fine and fry it out; turn the fat from it into a soup kettle; add one large onion chopped fine, half a cupful of chopped celery and two good sized parsnips cut in small pieces; add salt and a little white pepper and one quart of water; cook slowly until the vegetables are tender; then pour the soup through a coarse sieve or colander, jamming through the pulp of the parsnips; put it on to heat again; add one pint of milk, one and one-half tablespoonfuls of butter and a little cayenne; do not allow the soup to boil hard after the milk is added, and after it is poured into the tureen add a teaspoonful of finely cut beet; cut the beet in slices and wipe each slice dry before cutting it for the soup.

An Item About Floors.

It is easy to stain or oil a hard wood floor, but what to do with the ordinary cottage floor is another matter. A simple and cheap method of treating the latter is to have it smoothed down by a carpenter, painted, and the cracks filled in with putty, and finally painted over with several other coats and varnished. The paint for such a floor should be chosen in some dark wood shade which harmonizes with the decorations of the room, never in a conspicuous, staring color that refuses to be in place. Pretty bright mattings are useful as a way of treating such a floor which is to be carpeted with rugs.

Fruit Punch.

Put one pound of sugar and a quart of water into a saucepan, add the rind of one mandarin and the yellow rind of a lemon. Boil five minutes and stand aside to cool. When cold strain and add the juice of three lemons and three oranges. Pull one mandarin into sections, split the sections and toss into the punch. Add about one dozen white grapes, cut into halves, and stoned raisins and crushed macaroons. More water may be added if necessary.

Paste for Polishing Brass.

Mix a teaspoonful of powdered rotten stone with as much sweet oil and of turpentine as will make it the consistency of thick cream. Wash the articles requiring cleaning with fresh and very hot water, to remove the grease from grease, then dissolve a little paste in water, put it on the articles and rub to become perfectly dry; then polish with a soft cloth and afterwards with a little of the paste. If the paste is kept in a tin box it will keep for months.

Cocoa-nut Pudding.

Soak two tablespoonfuls of grated cocoa-nut in milk for about two hours; beat up three eggs, add two tablespoonfuls of sugar, a few chopped almonds, half a teaspoonful of lemon juice, and stir in the cocoa-nut and milk. Bake for three-quarters of an hour. If desiccated cocoa-nut is used it will soak for two hours in the milk.

Their Duty.

The captain of the company addressed the garrison.

"Those who are not ready to step in front of the line."

Some fifteen men do so.

"I don't want so many; only about three."

He chooses three, who assure him they are particularly enthusiastic over harmony.

"Good. You three report every morning to ring the post bell for waking the garrison."—Fliegende Blatter.

The Superiority of Man.

Jack—I don't see why you girls shouldn't hustle around like the rest of us and do things for yourselves. You could save lots of money by making your own hats and gowns.

Laura—I'd just like to know what you do for yourself?

Jack—I? Why, I've been making my own cigarettes ever since the 1st of January!—Life.

Sentiment Was All Right.

"Did you ever know that Harry Simpkins wrote poetry?" said one matinee girl to another.

"No, I don't believe he can."

"Oh, I saw some that he wrote," responded the first matinee girl, as a dash of color came into her face.

"Was it good?"

"Well, the rhymes and meter may not have been so awfully stylish, but" (and here there was a little burst of emphasis) "the sentiment was just lovely."—Washington Post.

Journalistic Note.

A New York reporter happened to be at the menagerie in Central park when the animals were being fed. He saw the keeper give the tiger a large piece of meat.

"Does he get that often?" asked the reporter.

"He is fed regularly every day," replied the keeper.

"Great heavens! why was I not born a tiger!" said the reporter, clasping his hands.—Texas Siftings.

Genuine Feeling.

A poor man succeeded in gaining admission to the presence of the wealthy Baron Rapineau, to whom he told the harrowing story of his misfortunes and his destitution in such eloquent terms that the baron, moved to pity, with tears in his eyes and his voice broken with sobs, said in faltering accents to his servant:

"Jean, turn the poor fellow out—he breaks my heart."—La Chronique.

A Serious Matter.

Senior Partner—Look here, Mr. Sheeply, the 1st of January you came to me and said you were seriously thinking of getting married, and on the strength of that I gave you a raise in your salary. What's the matter? Aren't you going to get married?

Sheeply—No, sir. I thought so seriously of it that I concluded I wouldn't.—Harper's Bazar.

Winter Agonies.

Office Boy—Please, sir, my cold's dat bad I can't hardly stand it, an' my head aches like blazes, an'—an' I've got a terrible sore head, an' my neck's stiff, an' I got a sty coming over one eye, an' de udder one's weak, an'—an' ——

A Victim of Habit.

Burglar (as Jagway enters his own room)—Hands up and no noise!

Burglar—Not much. I used to be a landlord.—Brooklyn Life.

Making Sure.

Mamma—You naughty girl! You've eaten every cooky there was on the plate. I told you you might have three.

Little Edith—Yes, but you didn't tell me which three. So I had to eat all to be sure to get the right ones.—Boston Transcript.

How He Came Out.

Bulfinch—What's the matter, Wooden?

Wooden—I've just been to ask old Cashbox for his daughter.

Bulfinch—Well, how did you come out?

Wooden—Through the window.—Boston Courier.

He—Yes—love of money.—The Epoch.

Europe's Curse.

Is becoming epidemic in America. Alarming spread of the disease every where. No place escaping the ravages of this terrible monster. Is more fatal than ever known in the history of the world. La Grippe microbes discovered by scientists to be the cause.

Microbes have been captured in the air and compared with microbes found in patients suffered with the grip and found to be identical in some. After carefully experimenting with various chemicals to find one that would destroy the microbe like without injury to the patient a few drops of Piso's Cure Syrup was placed upon the microbe and all bacteria killed. Upon the first appearance of this disease you have a cold or cough, then follow the symptoms as by sore throat, pains in the back and loins, eyes weak and nostrils sore, a chilly sensation, next comes an appearance and a high fever follows. At this critical period don't trifle with what you may think is only a slight cold. Nature sounds the warning, then give heed at once or pneumonia sets in and life is endangered. It is simply the part of wisdom to respect nature's warning and give assistance at once.

This scientific preparation having been the first and only one yet discovered that will destroy microbe in the blood should be kept at hand and upon the first approach a few doses of Piso's Cure Syrup will dispel it. Sold by druggists at 25 cts. per bottle; always reliable.

Destructive Fire in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, April 10.—The cattle sheds and two feed barns of the Union Stock Yards company, covering nine acres of ground on Spring Grove avenue and adjacent lots, were destroyed by fire last night. The animals were gotten out safely. The barns contained 700 tons of hay and 20,000 bushels of corn, all of which was consumed. The firemen were unable to check the spread of the flames owing to the inadequacy of the water supply. The loss is estimated at $500,000; insurance not known. The fire is evidently the work of incendiaries. Several firemen were overcome in trying to extinguish the flames, but none seriously.

Plaster Works Burned.

Paterson, N. J., April 10.—The Riverside plaster works were burned to the ground this day. The company carried an insurance of $5,000, but President Alexander says this will not cover one-quarter of the loss.

The Greatest Strike.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating

Sick Headache

Heart-burn

Sour Stomach

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." THE BODY FOUND AT DELAWARE IS THAT OF HOWARD WHITBY

The Poor Fellow Has Succeeded at Last in Destroying Himself—What Disposition Will Be Made of the Remains is Not Known—Action of Delaware Authorities Criticised.

The remains of the man washed ashore south of Delaware Wednesday have been identified, and no doubt remains but that they are those of Howard Whitby, of this city.

Mayor Dudley returned Thursday night from Delaware, perfectly satisfied that he had identified the body found. Mr. Dudley described minutely the clothing and person of Howard Whitby to Coroner Leonard, of Delaware. A peculiar characteristic of the deceased man was his habit of keeping his shirt sleeves rolled above his elbows, exactly as were those on the body found. This fact alone established the identity of the man, but it was strengthened by other incidents of Mr. Dudley's description. A brother-in-law of Whitby was telephoned at Cardington and went to Delaware with a photograph of the deceased man, which the coroner recognized readily.

Mr. Dudley brought with him a piece of the dead man's shirt, a comb, collar button, etc. These articles were identified by Mrs. Moore, mother-in-law of Whitby. The piece of shirt contained the laundry mark, "W 12." This was taken to the Marion laundry this morning, where Mr. Walterhus, the proprietor, recognized the mark, and stated that he could swear to having but the mark there for Mr. Whitby. The shirt had been purchased of Strelitz & Son, who testified to having sold Whitby an order of the same make.

The theory of Whitby's suicide is that he left this city Wednesday, February 18th. He was seen at the C., H. V. and T. depot on that date by Policeman Acker. He took the 9 o'clock train south, saying to the policeman, "Good-bye, I'm going." That was the last seen of him by any one in Marion. It is supposed that the desperate man got off the train at Delaware, where he jumped from the bridge into the Olentangy, and was washed down stream, a distance of about three miles, where the body was found by the 12-year-old boy Watkins. The coroner says the body may have remained in the water from three to six weeks, according to indications.

Howard Whitby was about 40 years of age, a good workman, of a friendly nature, industrious and honest. His weakness of later years was an appetite for drink, to which he resorted when in trouble more particularly. He has one child living and the wife whom he left here, but who is now visiting at Columbus and has not been informed of the suicide. Deceased has a mother, two brothers and three sisters living at Philadelphia, Pa., all of whom are wealthy. The mother is totally blind and aged. The father committed suicide eight years ago by drowning in a manner similar to that employed by the son.

Mayor Dudley had informed a sister of Howard of his mysterious disappearance, and she sent a letter pleading for him to find her brother, whether dead or alive. He today telegraphed her of the find at Delaware. Until word comes from there it will not be known what disposition will be made of the remains.

The action of the authorities in burying the body where it was found, without any attentions except the provision of a box, is severely criticised here. Coroner Leonard, of Delaware, seems not to be to blame for this, but a set of township trustees. Those officials were informed of the find, and, after the Coroner's investigation, sent word to have the body buried. The decomposed condition is hardly an excuse for such hasty action, and at least a little decency should have been shown a human. The body may be exhumed for burial elsewhere.

AUSPICIOUS OPENING

Of the Lime City Business College—An Interesting Program.

The formal opening of the Lime City Business College occurred at Music Hall Thursday evening, with appropriate exercises. The hall was well filled, and the evening must have been gratifying to Mr. Parkinson, the president and manager of the new institution.

Shortly after 8 o'clock Rev. Gross, pastor of the Reformed church, invoked divine blessing on the enterprise, and the regular program was opened. Two quartets furnished the music of the occasion and greatly pleased the audience. Mrs. Herrman F. Gruendler, who is here rehearsing for the production of Pinafore, was present, and favored the audience with a solo. She was encored and responded in her charming manner, much to the delight of those present.

Revs. W. E. Thomas, W. P. Hale and J. L. Hansley each responded with addresses on education and its kindred topics, and extoled the benefits to be derived from the establishment of a business college in the city. M. E. Chase also made an interesting address on the subject of practical education. Mr. Chase advanced many unique ideas, and subjected himself to some criticism, but his remarks showed much careful study of the subject.

Among the pleasant features of the evening were two recitations by Miss Katherine Turney, who is well known here as an entertaining elocutionist. She delivered "The Fall of Pemberton Mill" and "Darius Green and his Flying Machine" in her usual pleasing manner.

Miss Edwards is also entitled to much credit for her solo singing, which greatly assisted in making the entertainment an enjoyable event.

Altogether it was an auspicious opening of the Lime City Business College, and Mr. Parkinson deserves much credit for his energy so far exhibited toward making the enterprise a success.

TO HER ETERNAL REWARD.

Mrs. T. H. Dickerson Dies Early This Morning, After Two Days' Illness.

Mrs. Eliza Dickerson, widow of T. H. Dickerson, who was laid to his final rest just one year ago, died at the home of her son, Milton H. Dickerson, in Kensington Place at 5:30 this morning, in her 54th year.

The announcement was quite shocking, for the death was so sudden and the circle of friends so very large. Mrs. Dickerson was taken ill with the grip only on Wednesday and in less than forty-eight hours, the enfeebled body was lifeless. Some three months ago she suffered with a low grade of fever, and her health was seriously impaired. Much of her flesh was lost and her strength wasted away and she did not recover as her friends hoped. A trip westward was arranged for this week in the hope of recuperation, and the day that she was taken ill she was to have gone on a pleasure tour.

Lydia Eliza Walker was born in Pickaway county in 1837. She came with her parents to Marion when but two years old, and at her mother's death, was adopted in the family of Judge Bartram, with whom she made her home until married. After the marriage to Mr. Dickerson her entire life was spent in Marion excepting a short interval in Iowa and at Galion. There is but one child, her son, to mourn her death, but the sorrowing friends who loved and admired the good, christian woman are in great numbers. With a heart full of love and sympathy she made her life a joy to others, and her cheering presence will be sadly missed.

The funeral is to take place from the Presbyterian church on Sunday at 11 o'clock, Rev. W. E. Thomas officiating.

LaRue.

The Baptist quarterly meeting was held last Saturday and Sunday. Rev. Hale, of Marion, was in attendance Saturday, and Samuel Hopkins and John McElvy and wife put in their appearance, and made us a visit before returning home.

At the election Lippencott was elected justice of peace, Clark assessor and Morral trustee; four anti-saloon councilmen were also elected. Now we go until November, and then we will go for 20,000 plurality for McKinley for governor and fifteen majority on joint ballot in the legislature.

Farmers' Alliance, come back to your old home, claim your just rights and you will undoubtedly get them.

A good crop this year, Republican success next fall and all will be well. In '92 the great political battle will be fought—there will be music in the air.

LaRue is unmoved; stood fast and bravely came to the scratch yesterday. Lippencott puts on dignity to lay; looks like he was listening to an attorney on a question of law. DeCliff didn't do as well by him as we expected. The Democracy is down on him.

Seed oats is not very plenty. We have nearly 200 bushels of old oats and will sow of them. Last year's oats is somewhat chaffy.

Nathan Crabtree is at home at present. Don't know whether he is going back to Hillsdale soon or not.

J. B. Leonard has a log trade on hand; don't know what the outcome will be.

Our hotel has changed hands, and T. L. Leonard is now running it. Guess he can do it satisfactorily.

We are to have a new railroad agent here. The old one was a good one and we hope his successor will be.

Harager is to send to Michigan for a car load of potatoes. I think it would be well to plant potatoes from Michigan, it is season and change our seed.

There is an increased demand for hay of late.

The mud is well mixed now and the supply good. It is run strong to—more water in it.

Health is fairly good, pills not in great demand, but costly. Newspapers not so much preaching.

Golden wedding at John Jones' Thursday.

SUMMARY JUSTICE

INFURIATED CITIZENS OF KENTON LYNCH MURDERER BALES

Policeman Harper's Assassin Strung Up by a Rope—A Terrible Lesson to a Gang of Toughs Who Infest the Town.

[Special to the DAILY STAR.]

KENTON, O., April 10, 1891.—Bales the murderer of Policeman Harper, was taken from the jail and lynched here Thursday night by an infuriated mob. The mob had been at work organizing every since Bales was placed in jail, and Thursday evening every citizen of this place knew that ere another day dawned the murder of Policeman Harper would be avenged. During the early part of the night small crowds of men could be seen making their way toward the meeting place of the mob. At about 12 o'clock they marched to the jail and broke down the outside doors, and fifteen masked men entered the jail, forcing Sheriff Neville to deliver his keys to them. They then entered the corridors of the jail and hastened to the cell occupied by Bales. Bales was terror stricken, crouching in the corner of his cell, but offering little resistance. He was taken to a tree near by, where at least five hundred people awaited the coming of the lynching party. A rope was soon procured and thrown over a limb of the tree. A noose was quickly made in the rope and placed about the murderer's neck. Nervous but willing hands soon had hold of the rope, and his writhing form was coolly pulled up several feet from the ground. They held the rope until life was extinct; tying the rope to the trunk of the tree, they left his lifeless body to the mercy of the winds.

After those who had participated in the lynching had dispersed or mingled in the crowd the excitement seemed to grow more intense, the fire bell was rung, people were seen running about the streets as if mad, and it would have been hard to find more than a dozen people at their homes in the city. The body was cut down and will be given burial here.

It is supposed that some of the police were among the spectators of the horrible affair. The citizens are all in sympathy with the mob and are well satisfied with the manner in which the murder of their fellow townsman has been avenged.

This should be a lesson to a gang of toughs who infest the city, prowling about at nights, robbing whoever they chance to meet. Harper had been quite successful in bringing them to justice. They swore that they would kill him; the result of their oath has been recorded in the history of crime, and the affair of Thursday night was but a just punishment at the hands of indignant citizens.

An eye witness of the horrible scene said to your correspondent that he understood that it was the intention of the mob to hang his two accomplices, who are confined in the jail. There is but little doubt of their guilt, but it seems that the executioners gave them the benefit of what little doubt there was in their favor.

DeCliff.

Plowing has commenced.

The election passed off quietly.

Andy Strawser came up to town Wednesday to see his friends.

Mart Sagers, of LaRue, was in town Wednesday on business.

Chris Lippencott, Independent, carried Montgomery tp., by 50 majority, for justice.

James Russell is at Prospect this week puting up machinery for W. L. Cox.

J. H. Bain was at Ada last week, circulating among his college friends.

Postmaster Mohr was summoned to Mt. Victory Wednesday as a witness on a case in which the state was plaintiff.

Mrs. Henry Wise and Miss Cissie Disinger, of Findlay, O., visited Will Drake Friday last.

Mrs. M. P. McMillian, Mrs. Link Morral and Miss Algie McMillian, visited friends at Marion Monday and Tuesday.

Milton Morral was re-elected Trustee Monday by a very large majority, in fact, the people voted for him regardless of party. Mr. Morral is a Republican.

Willie F. Bain and Mike Tron started for Fresno, California, Tuesday, for a stay of two years if they like the country. They promised to furnish the STAR with news from the Pacific coast.

Charley Mapes will move to DeCliff. He intends to start a barber shop here DeCliff eventually will get to the front.

N. A. Lucas, former agent at DeCliff has purchased property at Hepburn and will in the near future take the agency at that place.

On account of the very muddy roads, Mr. Cox has shut down his mill until the weather settles. In the meantime he is repairing up his extensive tile works at Prospect.

C. S. Lippencott, independent candidate for justice, carried the East precinct by 14 majority and the whole township by 50, notwithstanding Agosta's chief mogal and his allies industriously and maliciously circulated the false report that Mr. Lippencott would move the office from LaRue to DeCliff if elected. Lies don't count with honest people.

The race for assessor in the East precinct between Green Miller and Bill Young was a tie on the the first two counts, but a recount was demanded on the part of Young which resulted in a majority of two for him. The matter seemed badly mixed. The polling room was jammed full with people, all trying to find the law on the subject. Miller is in doubt and claims the count should stand a tie and cast lots for the honor, but through the excitement the board adjourned, the matter standing in favor of Young. The board hears some criticism. Some credit, however, is due the august body, the election board, and permit us to suggest right here that other townships in this county would do well to follow their example and always put at least one man on the board who can read and write.

April 8. JOE SPIKES.

Brush Ridge.

As I have not written for some time owing to a lack of news and the grip, I will take up my pencil once more.

The roads are very bad and considerable of agitation among the farmers has arisen concerning the pike, but with one in course of construction and another under considerable agitation, we think the prospect very favorable for us for another year for better means of transportation.

Owing to the unfavorable condition of the roads there was no preaching at the Ridge last Sabbath, but will be upon next and the Sabbath following also, by Rev. Crabtree, of LaRue, the regular minister at this point.

There was preaching at the First Baptist church here upon Thursday afternoon and evening of this week by Rev. Purvis, of Illinois.

Andrew Peters has returned from a visit with his brother and friends in Franklin county.

Mrs. Mansington Welsh, of Wyandot, died the 3rd inst., and was buried in the Wyandot cemetery the 5th. The funeral services were held at the late home of the deceased and were delivered by Bro. Brunnell.

Mrs. Kate Turney, of the same place, died very suddenly upon the 29th ult. Funeral was preached by Rev. Tompkins. The remains were interred in the Bush Ridge cemetery.

Spring term of school at the Ridge will begin the 13th. Miss Allie Peters, teacher.

The wheat is looking very fine upon drained land; somewhat spotted where the land is wet.

Considerable tiling is being done here this spring.

Caged in the Top of a Building.

For some mysterious reason the elevator in Fuller's block did not stop at the desired floor the other day, and kept on to the top of the building in spite of the small boy who was running it. The sole passenger was an elderly lady. It was nearly noon when the ascent was made, and it was after dinner that a gentleman discovered that the elevator boy did not respond to the bells and went to the roof to see what was the matter. He discovered, caged up in the elevator, a very much frightened old lady and a boy, who also showed signs of anxiety. With a step ladder and some outside help the prisoners were rescued through a very small opening above the door on the top floor and the elevator was set in motion again. It will be some time before that lady trusts herself to an elevator again.—Springfield (Mass.) Homestead.

A Curiosity of Red Tape.

A curious case of red tape has just come to my attention. The Brazilian Indians have a trick of compressing the skulls of the dead. They take out all the bones and reduce the size of the head to about one-third of its original dimensions, but manage to retain the features and expression exact. A gentleman in New York on a recent trip to Brazil secured one of these heads and shipped it home. It now lies in a box in the basement of the custom house, and he can get it no further, because the health officer will not give the necessary authority to the customs officer to pass the invoice, for the reason that no certificate has been furnished as to the cause of the man's death.—Cor. Chicago News.

In Frankfort experiments are shortly to be made to show the application of electricity to aerial navigation. The pulley which controls the ascent and descent of the balloon will be operated by an electric motor, and a telephone wire will enable conversation to be carried on between those in the balloon and those at the starting point below.

They are sold at the low rate of $20, and are good over twelve different railroads. Commercial men and others will find them very convenient. For further particulars write or call upon W. H. THE JUDGE TAKES A HAND.

His Prompt Action and Firmness Prevents Trouble at Rome, Ga.

ROME, Ga., April 10.—Judge Maddox, who is trying the McKee case, took a hand in the Fry-Waters-Dietz affair Wednesday. Every body expected sensational developments in the courts. But the prompt action and the firmness of Judge Maddox prevented any trouble whatever. The judge made a long address, in which he declared that counsel had a right to reflect upon a witness, regardless of sex, on any point that may be warranted by the evidence. When he goes beyond that point he is in contempt of court, and he is responsible to the court. He threatened Mrs. Dietz's champions with imprisonment, and the cham-gang if they bring concealed weapons into court.
